"Paul's deep knowledge of the industry, combined with his relentless energy and positive attitude, makes him a great addition to the Radar team", Rob Montasser, vice president of Radar Tire, North America, said. "His long-standing relationships and reputation for excellence will help us continue building strong partnerships and expanding our footprint across the Midwest."

Stahoviak is the fourth territory sales manager hired by Omnisource since April.

Stahoviak said he was excited to be joining Radar Tires and helping the brand grow.

"I'm passionate about building lasting relationships with our partners and helping our brand succeed in the marketplace," he said.

Arlington-based Omnisource United is a subsidiary of Singapore-based tire brand owner Omni United (S) Pte Ltd.
